

Positive Discipline Workshop

Using Reinforcement to Improve Your Child's Behavior:

As a parent, we often use punishment (time-out, yelling, scolding, spanking, taking things) as our go-to strategy to change children's behavior. The real question is this, though: is it working? In this training, we will look at ways that you can use reinforcement to create real change in your child, which will improve their behavior and also the stability of your whole family!
